

what to buy now

shopping

STARTERS

Recipe Organizer / $25

Bon Appétit is your source for great recipes, and now we've got a new way to organize them. The binder includes recipes, a built-in book stand, conversion charts, and blank recipe pages. amazon.com

Hand-Carved Spoons / $32-$53

Arkansas-based artisan Steve Folkers uses a traditional crafting technique to shape and hew his spoons. Each is a beautiful, functional, one-of-a-kind work of craft art. Available at Freehand; 323-655-2607

Cork Cutting Board / $20

Naturally sustainable, waterproof, and scratch-resistant, high-density cork makes an ideal cutting board. This lightweight 18x12-inch board holds its own against the sharpest of knives. crateandbarrel.com

Market Tote / $98

Designer Anya Hindmarch's follow-up to her blockbuster "I'm Not a Plastic Bag" tote is roomy—and sturdy—in 100 percent cotton canvas with reinforced stitched-leather handles. anyahindmarch.com

Honey Drops / $12 for 20

Love honey in your tea, but hate the sticky mess? Try these candy-size Honibe Honey Drops; they're little dollops of pure dried honey that dissolve in hot liquids like sugar cubes. honibe.com

Hand Soap and Lotion / $26

Enjoy the clean, crisp scent of the seashore right at your kitchen sink. Lemon verbena, sea salt, and orange blossom combine for a truly fresh fragrance. Sea Salt Neroli Petite Sink Set; caldrea.com

Travel Wallet / $735

Go effortlessly from sightseeing to elegant dining with a calfskin clutch in hand. Designed for a lifetime of stylish traveling, it's the only wallet you'll ever need. Travel clutch from the Coral collection; smythson.com

Ceramic Vases / $65 for pair

Let the colors of spring breathe new life into your home decor. Flowing stripes and swirls give classic rounded rose vases a modern update. "Slip Cool" 8-inch-tall and 4 1/4-inch-tall rose vases; magenta-inc.com

Porcelain Dishes / $49-$71

Yes you can take these modular trays from oven to table: They've got heat-resistant, nonslip footpads. So go ahead, toss that trivet. Stackable 9 1/2x6 1/4-inch and 6 1/4x4 1/4-inch oven dishes; speranzaonline.com ~ELISA HUANG